History

CWJJ Ministries was born in the mist of the millennium year. As the world was in a vast demand for answers to the Y2K frenzy millennium, God was speaking so clear to his people. God's mission was and still is profound.

The vision of CWJJ Ministries had its beginning as a higher learning institute in December of 2002 when it became a Certified Academic Institution through the sanctions of N.C.C.A. (National Christian Counselors Association)

The purpose of CWJJ CAI is to provide quality training for pastors and Christians who feel God's call to counsel. Our training results in credentials that the community (Christians and non-Christian) will recognize. We are dedicated to training students to become the best leaders and servants of God. We offer courses, which are designed to transfer easily to other institutions of higher learning. CWJJ CAI sets the highest mark for Christian Counseling.

In April of 2012, CWJJ Certified Academic Institution name was changed to Mount Olivet Certified Academic Institution.

Mission

An Institution that defines knowledge as Divine Experiences Stored In the Pure Spirit of Man.

The Origins of the National Christian Counselors Association

In 1981, the Arno established the National Christian Counselors Association (N.C.C.A.) as a non-profit corporation in order to conduct research and develop a therapeutic procedure based on Scripture. The procedure would accomplish three essential goals:

1. Enable the candidate to learn the system easily and relatively quickly
2. Save pastors and Christian counselors precious time in counseling sessions
3. Produce effective, positive, and more immediate results with those being counseled

Drs. Richard and Phyllis Arno developed the system over seven years through systematic research with over 5,000 individuals. The counsees sought help for depression, inter/intra-personal conflict, marriage and family dysfunctions and anxiety.

The purpose of the research was to: (1) increase the effectiveness of the N.C.C.A.'s therapeutic procedure; (2) measure the percentage of success within a controlled environment; and (3) develop an accurate clinical testing procedure for initial identification of the counselee's temperament (spiritual genetics). In-depth studies were conducted on all current psychological tests and/or behavioral inventories. For many reasons, the N.C.C.A. selected the FIRO-B, which was developed by Dr. Will Schultz, as its initial measuring device or questionnaire. The N.C.C.A. named its analysis procedure the Temperament Analysis Profile (T.A.P.), which reveals the 'hidden problems' that normally take the counselor seven or eight sessions to identify.

In November 2000 the N.C.C.A. changed the name from Temperament Analysis Profile to the Arno Profile System (A.P.S.) after the developers. Presently, over 4,000 pastors and professional counselors rely on the Arno Profile System to aid them in their counseling efforts. These counselors report an accuracy rate of over ninety percent (90%) in identifying an individual's correct (in-born, God-given) temperament.

Advantages of the Arno Profile System

As a licensure candidate, you will learn the Arno Profile System (A.P.S.) for counseling. A.P.S. is an easy-to-learn counseling technique used by thousands of lay counselors, professional counselors and pastors throughout the United States and in several foreign countries.

The Christian counselor administers a questionnaire, which takes fewer than ten minutes for the counselee to complete. The questionnaire measures the counselee's needs, natural traits, strengths, and weaknesses according to temperament. These are identified in the computerized Arno Profile System report, providing the counselor with in-depth information and the best way to counsel the individual. The system enables a qualified counselor to identify the counselee's temperament problem faster and more accurately.

Who Can Benefit From N.C.C.A. Training?

The training adjusts to meet the needs of Christians with different goals, including:

- Christians who want to be better equipped to minister to those who need counsel
- Pastors who want to learn how to counsel members of their community who are experiencing problems
- Christians who want to be credentialed and enter the field of counseling as a part-time or full-time ministry
- Professional counselors who want to become A.P.S. certified and learn a Biblically-based counseling model with proven success

N.C.C.A. Credentials Help You Personally and Professionally

Potential counselors often ask about the benefits of the training and obtaining certification or license from the N.C.C.A. Of course, the main benefit is knowledge. The training you receive provides a deep spiritual insight into understanding human behavior and relating to others. This knowledge is valuable in every area of life, including your ability to help those who are hurting.

In addition, the certification or license can open many doors. For example, once you successfully complete the program, you may elect to apply for ministerial credentials through the National Conservative Christian Church and qualify to open your own counseling ministry in your community under the authority of this national church organization.

Having N.C.C.A. credentials ensures that you are recognized within your community as a qualified Christian/Pastoral counselor. The community can be assured that your credentials are authentic and current.

Other benefits available to N.C.C.A. members include qualifying for professional liability insurance, networking with other counselors and the opportunity to earn continuing education credits at seminars and conferences. In addition, the N.C.C.A. offers assistance to its graduates with regard to degree transfer work and fulfillment of academic goals.

Christian Certification/Licensing

Each individual must decide if he or she wants to be an agent of the state or a servant of the Church (Body of Christ). If you have a Divine call on your life to counsel and minister to the hurting, then a state license may inhibit such ministry.

The N.C.C.A. Licensing Program is not a state license and is, in fact, distinctly different. Most states have regulatory laws governing the practice of psychology. Many of them also legislate the practice of general counseling. The laws vary from state to state. For example, some states have a counselor category called “Licensed Professional Counselor.” Therefore, the N.C.C.A. requires its counselors to clearly identify their license, e.g., “N.C.C.A. Licensed Pastoral Counselor” or “N.C.C.A. Licensed Clinical Christian Counselor.” This ensures that the N.C.C.A. counselor is operating within legal and ethical standards, and maintaining the public’s trust and confidence.

State regulatory laws help to protect the public and ensure professionalism within the counseling profession. The N.C.C.A. strives to attain a similar goal within the Christian community and, at the same time, operate so as to avoid infringing upon state regulations.

The state and federal governments also have jurisdictional boundaries. They cannot pass laws that prevent the Church from fulfilling its purpose and ministering to humanity’s needs. The state recognizes that counseling is one of the responsibilities of the Church and its clergy. For this reason, the state does not and must not interfere with the Ministry of Counseling.

The major difference between state-licensed professional counselors and Pastoral or Christian counselors, who are licensed by the N.C.C.A. and under the authority of the Church (Body of Christ), is clear and well-defined. Counselors who have been licensed by the state are held to strict ethical standards which mandate an individual’s right to be free from religious influence. The state licensed professional counselor is forbidden to pray, read or refer to the Holy Scriptures, counsel against things such as homosexuality, abortion, etc. Initiating such counsel would be considered unethical by the state. In most states in the U.S., state licensed counselors “must not promote their personal religious beliefs” according to the code of ethics in each respective state.

The only time a state licensed counselor can involve religious (Christian) principles, morals, activities, instruction, etc., is if the counselee initiates or requests counsel in this area. The state-licensed counselor may not have the education, experience and knowledge of Scripture that the N.C.C.A. provides.

Opposite from that, Pastoral counselors are required to pray, share their faith, read the Holy Scriptures, etc. The fact that Pastoral and Christian counselors do these things creates a clear distinction. We are two distinct professions and govern ourselves accordingly.

As you can readily see, the state governs secular counselors and the Church is responsible to set standards and govern ministers who have devoted their lives to the ministry and to Pastoral counseling.

None of this is to say that the Christian counselor, minister or priest is not permitted to request fees and receive remuneration for the services they render, as long as they remain adherent to the state laws governing such procedures.

The N.C.C.A. requires all who are certified or licensed by its Licensing Board of Examiners to:

1. Be credentialed ministers (ordained, licensed or commissioned) whose goal is to evangelize and ease the emotional pain and suffering of humanity
2. Provide their service under the authority of a legally organized local church, a national church organization or a 501(c) (3) not-for-profit ministry.
3. Complete the specialized training provided by the N.C.C.A.
4. Complete the minimum requirements for continuing education and annual license renewal.
5. Uphold N.C.C.A.'s Code of Ethical Standards.

N.C.C.A.'s published "Code of Ethical Standards" outlines all of the procedures involved in dismissal, revocation, probation and reinstatement of an individual's membership, certification and/or license.

First Amendment Rights

The First Amendment of the Constitution of the United States proclaims that:

“Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech or the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of the grievances.”

The FACT is that the government (state) will take as much of your freedom as you are WILLING to let them take. Doing biblical counseling is protected by our constitution and that is why all states provide an exemption for “clergy.”

Please do not try to tell me that the “Church” (Body of Christ) does not have the right to license. The church has been awarding a “License to Preach” in this Country before there was a United States of American.

Preaching is only one ministry of the Church –counseling is another. The Church can set and maintain the standards for Pastoral Counselors and for Ministers of Counseling and maintain those standards through a license IF WE WANT TO. The state has NO SAY in the matter – any more than they have any say regarding the practice of ordination.

What if the state said that it was taking over ordination? Would we just stand back and let them? I pray to God not!

You cannot “freely” represent Jesus if you are being required under the laws of state ethics to uphold a persons’ right to abortion and homosexuality!

I have heard some say that Pastoral Counselors cannot receive money (remuneration) for counseling. Well, if we cannot receive money for counseling then it must also be illegal for us to receive money for performing weddings, funerals, preaching, conducting revivals, teaching and every other duty that is performed by a clergyperson. What about pre-marital counseling, is it legal for a clergyperson to be paid for that? Of course it is!

Are you representing Jesus in our counseling? Are you ordained or commissioned as a minister? If so, the state has no jurisdiction over you—that belongs to the “Church” and our Constitution mandates it. Tens of thousands of Americans have given their lives for you to have that right and you must never give it away, not now, not ever!

Explanation of Ministerial Credentials and Clergy

Are you “called” by God to counsel and want to be licensed?

Many individuals who inquire about N.C.C.A.’s licensing program are ordained ministers. These individuals can complete the requirements and be licensed as a Licensed Pastoral Counselor or as a Licensed Clinical Counselor. They can counsel anywhere in America and accept remuneration for this service (in accordance with state and local guidelines) without being affiliated with any state agency, i.e., without being state licensed.

This is because the laws governing counseling in all states exempt “Clergy” from submitting to its (the state’s) authority. The First Amendment of our Constitution requires such exemption: “Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; ... ”

What about the others – those individuals who are not ordained ministers or pastors? The call to counsel is just as real for them. They do not want to be state licensed and most certainly do not want to relinquish their right to represent Jesus Christ in their counseling ministry. They just want to answer and fulfill God’s call on their lives.

Indeed, some are called to the high office of the pastorate. These persons should be ordained (set aside) by a church or a denomination and approved to perform all the duties of the pastorate, including the dispensation of the sacraments (giving holy Communion and Baptizing). However, there are many other types of Ministers or Clergy. For example, Ministers of Music, Chaplains, Ministers of Administration, Missionaries, Youth Ministers, etc. All of these offices are understood by the state and federal government to be “Clergy.”

The Ministry of Counseling is a valid ministry which is instituted by God. The call into this ministry is an awesome call which cannot be easily ignored.

Perhaps you are not called to pastor a church or to give Holy Communion or to Baptize. However, if you are called by God into the Ministry of Counseling, we can help you. You do not have to be Ordained; you can qualify to be commissioned as a Commissioned Minister of Counseling. This will meet state requirements so you can legally counsel and accept remuneration because you will be recognized by your state as Clergy. And, it will open the doors for you to accept God’s call on your life.

Your local church/pastor can commission you as a Commissioned Minister of Counseling or you can complete the course titled “Ministerial Credentials” and be commissioned by the National Conservative Christian Church.

Please do not reject God’s call and His anointing on your life because you are fearful of the words “Clergy,” or “Ordained,” or “Commissioned” or “Minister.” These precious words mean “set aside” for the specific ministry for which God has called you.

Our call is to help you fulfill your call.

After receipt of a grade, a student is given two weeks (14 days) to petition to change any grade status to a higher grade, or an “Incomplete” via the resubmission of required course work. If a student fails to resubmit the required course work during the two-week grace period, the final grade will stand. Any changes after period will be determined by the Academic Dean and accompanied with the respective fee.

Incomplete Work

All work required in a course is due by the end of the term. Incomplete (I) grades is given when emergencies or physical difficulties prevent students from completing their work. All coursework incomplete at the end of the term may be made up only at the discretion of the professor and in accordance with his or her instructions. A grade penalty may be assessed though the student is allowed to make up the work. Any grade of “I” (Incomplete) must be removed within three months.

Scholastic Honors

Students receiving exceptional grades will be awarded scholastic honors based upon their performance.

Summa cum laude (with greatest distinction) for grade point ratio of 3.80 and above.

Magna cum laude (with great distinction) for grade point ratio of 3.60 to 3.79.

Cum laude (with distinction) for grade point ratio of 3.40 to 3.59.

Grade Reports

All grades are permanently recorded on the student’s academic transcripts and become a part of their scholastic record. An unsatisfactory grade (“D” or “F”) in a course must remain on the transcript and is used in calculation of the students’ grade point ratio. However, if student repeats a course, the new grade replaces the unsatisfactory grade for GPA calculations, both grades remain a permanent part of the student’s transcript.

Attendance Policy

Students are expected to attend all classes. In general, students must not be absent from a class more than the equivalent of a set number of class periods as specified in the course syllabus. Consult the syllabus for each course for guidance on the attendance policy of the faculty member. It is the responsibility of each student to meet with the respective faculty member to discuss absences and to schedule make-up work if such is to be allowed.

If a student is representing the college in an official capacity, as verified on a list released from the Dean, the student will not be penalized by the instructor for those absences, and the student will be allowed to make up the work missed; such absences, as all others, are recorded and apply toward the maximum number of absences tolerated per term

Absence from Examinations

No student who fails to take a final examination when scheduled may take the examination without written permission of the instructor/Division Chair or Dean. Exceptions are approved only for emergency situations or personal hardships. Completion of the final examination is required for successful completion of the course.
